

To Make Reparation If Submarine Violated Orders

GERMANY STANDS READY TO ELIMINATE ARABIC CASE FROM DISCUSSION

ASSOCIATED PRESS GETS SIGNIFICANT INTERVIEW FROM VON BETHMANN-HOLWEG, GERMAN CHANCELLOR.

INSTRUCTIONS ISSUED

German Submarine Commanders Given Orders Following Lusitania Sinking Calculated to Prevent a Repetition of Disaster.

Berlin, Aug. 25, via London.—The Associated Press is in a position to state on the best authority that the Arabic incident may be considered as eliminated as a source of discord between Germany and America, or at least is regarded by the German government in that light. Moreover, Germany in its desire to continue its friendly relations with the United States has adopted, before the sinking of the Arabic, a policy designed to settle completely the whole submarine problem as affecting America on the basis of good will and mutual understanding.

Chancellor's Statement. This is clearly shown by the statement of Chancellor Von Bethmann-Holweg last night to the Associated Press, particularly by his concluding remark to the effect that not until all the circumstances in connection with the sinking of the Arabic had been cleared up, would it be possible to say "whether the commander of one of our submarines went beyond his instructions," in which case Germany would give complete satisfaction to the United States.

Furthermore, during the conversation the chancellor twice again referred to the instructions given to submarine commanders. He did not specify in detail the nature of these instructions, but it may be said that they were designed to prevent a repetition of the Lusitania case, and to provide the opportunity for escape of American non-combatants on the torpedoed ship which the United States desires.

Await Facts, Germany Says. Having given these instructions, Germany asked suspension of judgment on the Arabic case until the facts are ascertained, being confident it will be shown that the sinking of the vessel was not an unprovoked attack without warning by the German submarine, but was attributable either to mine explosion or to some action of the vessel itself.

Should it develop, however, that a submarine acted contrary to instructions, ample reparation will be afforded.

Germany still is unable to understand why Americans in these perilous times travel on belligerent ships instead of taking American or other neutral steamers, but since they in some instances insist upon taking passage on vessels belonging to belligerent Germany will do its utmost to provide for their safety.

Seeks Friendship of U. S. It is not permissible to quote remarks made by the chancellor in the course of the conversation, other than the formal statement which he made. It may be said, however, that Dr. Von Bethmann-Holweg showed genuine interest in the feeling of the United States concerning the sinking of the Arabic, and expressed a hope that American people would not form an opinion on the basis of conflicting statements giving only one side of the story. He spoke with emphasis of Germany's desire to obtain the friendship of America.

The chancellor seemed to be in good health and spirits and greatly encouraged by the successes achieved by the Germans in the eastern campaign. The interview, necessarily, was of short duration as the chancellor was hurrying away to a conference with Emperor William at field headquarters.

Confirms Official Opinion. Washington, Aug. 26.—Press dispatches from Berlin quoting the German Chancellor Von Bethmann-Holweg as saying that if the submarine commander exceeded his instructions in sinking the White Star liner Arabic, the German government would give full satisfaction to the United States, was regarded here today as confirming the impression already prevailing in official circles.

Bernstorff at Washington. Count Von Bernstorff arrived here early today from New York. It had been said the object of his mission was to confer with Secretary Lansing. It was stated at the embassy that he would go to the state department at eleven o'clock.

The tenor of Berlin dispatches late last night and early today, especially the declaration of the German chancellor that proper reparation would be made if the submarine commander exceeded his instructions, and the public disclosure that Germany after the sinking of the Lusitania had taken steps to prevent another such disaster, renewed the feeling in official quarters here that friendly relations between the two countries would not be broken by the Arabic incident.

Conference Lasts an Hour. Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, conferred with Secretary Lansing nearly an hour this morning, and while both refused to discuss

ARREST SHELL GAME GRAFTERS AT BELOIT

Winnebago Fair Not to Tolerate Gambling Games and Oriental Shows and Sheriff Makes Arrests.

Beloit, Aug. 26.—That officials at the Winnebago fair will not tolerate gambling games and oriental shows, which verge on the immoral, was evidenced yesterday when Sheriff Guy W. Ginders of Rockford with two deputies made several arrests at the fair grounds. The offenders were each fined $14.50. They were operators of the shell game and oriental dancing shows.

The free-for-all pace took place this afternoon and stock awards were partly given out. Good weather has been prevalent during the two days, and the outlook is for one of the most successful fairs for Winnebago county.

Advertising Economy

Newspaper advertising is sold in exact quantities. You can buy enough to cover one city or one hundred—one section or a continent. A dollar spent in newspaper circulation works a good deal for its worth. The waste is the minimum. Newspaper advertising is reasonable. You can employ it for summer goods where summer warmth demands them. You can send a warning message to the frozen north while the sunny south is too busy keeping cool to be interested. That is economy.

BREST FALLS SAYS REPORT FROM BERLIN

TEUTONS CLAIM TO HAVE CAPTURED IMPORTANT SLAV STRONGHOLD OF BREST-LITOVSK.

ADVANCE UPON VILNA

German Drive on This Fortress Regarded as a Retaliation Against Slav Offensive on Nieman River. Berlin, wireless to Sayville, Aug. 26.—The Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk has been captured by the Teutonic forces.

The Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk, which has just capitulated to the Austro-German forces, had been considered one of the strongest fortresses in Europe and was the southern base of the second Russian line of defense, to which the armies of Grand Duke Nicholas retreated after the fall of Warsaw. The citadel is situated on the Bug river, and at the junction of several railways, 131 miles south of Grodno and 120 miles due east of the Polish capital.

The storming of Brest-Litovsk by the Teutonic forces is probably the most important military achievement since the fall of Warsaw three weeks ago today. The town, which had a population of about 30,000, was one of the most important depots for munitions and distributing points of military supplies near the western frontier of Russia proper. The fortress was rated by military critics as a much more important strategic point than was Warsaw.

The capitulation of Brest-Litovsk means in the opinion of military observers that the Russians will be forced to abandon their second defense line which extended from Brest-Litovsk northward to the Baltic base of Riga.

Taking Over Railroad. London, Aug. 26.—The invaders of Russia, with Ossovsetz safely in their hands, are now rapidly gaining the whole triangular railroad system, which, with its apex at Bialostok also serves Grodno and Ossovsetz. The mass of heavy artillery freed by the fall of Ossovsetz and Kovno is now being brought against Brest-Litovsk and Grodno, but not without great difficulty.

Hereafter field maneuvering will count more for the German armies than the use of heavy artillery against fortresses, but open field movements may be checked by the reported determination of the Russians to dig themselves in when their line has been reformed back of Brest-Litovsk.

No further advance has been reported along the Riga-Kovno line which presents a problem to the Russians. No hint has been given that the Russians entertained any fear that their armies will be trapped along this line.

Situation in Balkans. The near east continues to present an appearance of precarious balance between the warring groups. The central powers claim a diplomatic victory in the form of a Turco-Bulgarian agreement, while the entente allies apparently are bringing Serbia around to their view that concessions are necessary to procure Bulgaria's adhesion to the reformed Balkan league.

Plan to Isolate Fortress. Petrograd, Aug. 26.—The Austro-German aim, according to the latest advices received here, appears to be to cut off Brest-Litovsk by moving to the rear of the fortress and force its evacuation. The army of Prince Leopold of Bavaria was approaching the stronghold to the southeast and from the direction of Bialostok. That of Field Marshal Von Mackensen was pushing to the northeast from Vlodava toward Mator on the railroad from Brest-Litovsk to Kovno. A wilderness of forest and bog, thirty miles in length and of equal width, lay in the path of Prince Leopold's forces. This, however, is bisected by a railway and a post road.

Drive Against Vilna. General Von Eichhorn's drive to Vilna is regarded as the German answer to the threatened offensive by the Russians in the region of the middle Niemen between Kovno and Grodno, where the Russian official communication indicated a concentration of considerable forces of Russians on the left bank of the Niemen. In moving in the direction of Vilna the Germans are threatening the Russian base of operations. There is a pronounced movement of inhabitants from Dvinsk, where the railroad offices are being besieged day and night.

Small Garrison Captured. The garrison of Novogorodievsk during the last state of its defense did not exceed a division, according to the Ritch, which adds that the greater portion of the defenders of the fortress withdrew during the bombardment and declares that while the number of survivors is unknown it can only have been small. It is stated that the commandant of the fortress, General Buhry, was seriously wounded before the capitulation. The Bourse Gazette puts the garrison at "considerably less than an army corps."

WILSON COMMENDED AT MILTON MEETING

S. D. B. CHURCH CONFERENCE PASSES RESOLUTION PRAISING HIS EFFORTS FOR PEACE.

CROWDS AT SESSIONS

College Auditorium Filled to Capacity With Delegates and Church Workers From Nearly Every State.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Milton, Wis., Aug. 26.—At the session of the national conference of the Seventh Day Baptist church on Wednesday, a resolution was passed commending President Wilson for his conscientious efforts to maintain peace for the United States and expressing the hope that his good offices may yet be sought to restore world peace. The resolution also deplored the war in Europe and declared that arbitration is the only proper way to settle international disputes.

Sessions of the conference opened on Tuesday, the 24th, and will continue through Sunday, the 29th. It is the general annual conference of the S. D. B. churches of America, which commemorates the one hundred and twenty-fifth anniversary of the conference, during which time there have been 103 meetings.

Attendance at these meetings is crowding the capacity of the college gymnasium, which will seat 1,000 persons. Attendance this year is unusual, as many of the members of the church have attended Milton College and taken this opportunity to return to their alma mater. In addition there is the usual number of delegates and church workers, who are veterans in the service of their denomination, who have never missed a conference meeting in thirty or forty years.

Since the membership of the denomination is not large, the principal workers come to know each other intimately, and the sessions are consequently pervaded by an earnest religious spirit.

Visitors at the conference are provided with meals at a large cafeteria dining room, where hundreds may eat at one time. All arrangements for the entertainment of guests and conduct of the meetings are complete in every detail.

Besides the papers and addresses upon religious topics, there are children's meetings every day in the college chapel; open air concerts at one o'clock p. m. on the college campus by the conference orchestra, assisted by other musical talent both vocal and instrumental; sports and games by the young people on week days from four to six in the afternoon; and a young people's picnic at Clear Lake on Thursday afternoon.

The topics for sectional meetings on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be: Missionary Work, Fract Work, Education, Church Extension, Woman's Work, and Sabbath School.

The meetings of the conference began at 10 o'clock on Tuesday, the 24th, with devotional exercises followed by addresses of welcome by Dr. Burdick, and response by the Rev. M. G. Stillman of Lost Creek, West Virginia. Then came the president's address by the Rev. Lester C. Randolph, pastor of the Milton church, in which he gave reports of several committees upon various phases of denominational work.

In the afternoon there were messages from some of the presidents of the conference, with papers and addresses upon the following named topics:

"More Christianity for Members," Dr. George W. Post, Chicago; "Higher Christianity for Leaders," Dr. C. H. Chalmers, New York; "The Duty of the Hour," W. H. Ingham, Ft. Wayne, Indiana; "Byway of the Cross," Dr. E. A. Main, The remainder of the afternoon session was devoted to the question of finance. During the evening there was a discussion of the topic, "The Christian in Business," followed by a sermon by the Rev. D. E. Coon of Battle Creek, Michigan, once a Milton College student.

The forenoon of Wednesday was given mostly to the work of the missionary society. Especially good papers were read by W. K. Davis of Milton, "What Business Has the Business Man in Missions?" Fred I. Babcock of Albion, "What People Apparently Think About Home Missions," Loyal Hickey of Iowa, "What People Apparently Think About Foreign Missions."

During Wednesday afternoon a paper by the Rev. Erlo Sutton, Shiloh, Nev. Jersey, on the "Problem of the Church," was read. There followed a lively interest, as did an address by the Rev. A. L. Davis, Boulder, Colorado, concerning his work in a large missionary field in Colorado. Both spoke from strenuous experience in Christian service. The Rev. G. H. P. Randolph spoke of missionary school work in Arkansas.

The afternoon session closed with a memorial service in honor of the Rev. David H. Davis, a long time missionary at Shanghai, China. Dr. Davis died while at work on the 26th day of June, 1915. Tender words upon the life and character and self-sacrificing service of the noble missionary whom they knew so intimately and devotedly many long years were made by Rev. Dr. T. L. Gardiner, Plainfield, N. J.; the Rev. Dr. Albert Alfred, New York, and the Rev. Eugene Davis, of Walworth, who was for some time engaged in missionary work with Dr. Davis.

Wednesday evening service opened with an open-air meeting on a hillside of the college campus, the topic being "Life Decision." W. R. Reed, principal of schools of Neillsville, Wisconsin, read a paper upon "The Christian Teacher." He dwelt in particular upon the opportunity the Christian teacher has for the training of character.

This was followed by a young people's program presented before a great audience. Miss Emma Rogers spoke on the topic "The Quiet Hour," and its importance to the Christian life. George Thorngate, North Loup, Nebraska, spoke of the demand for young men in the ministry, declaring that is a great field open for Christian work.

The Rev. Eugene Davis of Walworth, Wisconsin, spoke upon "Efficiency." Mr. Davis said that in all kinds of work in these days there is a demand for efficiency. This is particularly needed in Christian work. There must be training for such efficiency, and we must undertake the training if we wish for results.

Courtland Davis of Salem, West Virginia, spoke upon the "Tenth Legion and Giving." He had prepared charts to show how much the denomination pays for Christian work, and how much it does not pay that it should pay. He urged upon all the listening system.

The meeting closed with a missionary play, the scene of action being in a home in Japan. A young Japanese had studied three years in America and then came back as a missionary to his countrymen. As a result of a long discussion of conditions he determined to go back to New York to do missionary work among his countrymen there, where it is most needed.

The B. & B. department at Mineral Point has just about completed the new water tank there. It is expected that work will begin on the Janesville tank soon.

Gust Gabeltner (C. M. & St. P. R.) To overcome dangerous conditions it is necessary that the co-operation of the men be obtained. Cleanliness and tidiness should be one of the first rules. The emergency wheel protection hood, including an adjustable line for protecting the employee, is a very good safety device; for, as a rule, the men will not always wear goggles when doing this work. In making guards for machinery they should be constructed at as low a cost as practicable. Common sense and a little good judgment by the operator himself are required to make "safety first" a success.

In order that the best results may be obtained from the safety first propaganda in any railway shop, it is of paramount importance that the employees in that shop become so enthused with the idea that their enthusiasm will be evidenced, not by their words, but by their actions. A sign posted in one shop to the effect, "The greatest safety device known to the world is the careful man," speaks volumes. With the best equipped safety devices known there are still loopholes for accidents, and these can only be closed by educating the employees to be careful. Another excellent practice, which is followed by one road, is to post on a bulletin board a report of every accident that occurs, stating just how the accident might have been avoided. This appeals to the men through their desire for news concerning their injured comrades, and the postscript as to how the accidents could have been averted is likely to be remembered. Another good plan is to have the personnel in the local safety first committees changed frequently, in order that as many men as possible may become thoroughly familiar with the subject by having it brought constantly to their attention for the definite time they serve on the committee. Much has been done by the railroads in providing safeguards, but there is much more to be done in properly educating the employees.

R. B. Fletcher (Belt Railway of Chicago)—A large number of machine manufacturers have altered the construction of their machines in order to reduce to a minimum the possibility of injury to operators. One very prominent factor in the elimination of injury to shop employees has been the adoption of motor driven machinery. The special recurring features for machines have also added a great deal to the safety of shops. The tool foreman is in a position to greatly assist in the "Safety First" campaign by being sure that unsafe tools are not passed out to the workmen. Every effort should be made by the foreman, as well as the safety committee, in encouraging the men to report all unsafe conditions.

From a study of accidents it has been found possible to eliminate only 50 per cent of the injuries by guarding the machinery; the other half are the direct result of carelessness by the men and must be overcome by the education of each individual workman. A great deal can be accomplished in this direction by closely watching the actions of each new employee to see if possible whether or not he is inclined to be careless. Careless employees should be carefully instructed and warned against danger.

BOTH TEAMS "LOAD" FOR COMING GAME; CARDS SHOULD WIN

Record Breaking Baseball Game Is Expected When Cardinals and Beloit "Fairies" Clash Here Sunday.

All Janesville is interested in the pending series between the Janesville Cardinals and the Beloit Fairies. The first game of which is to be played here on Sunday. Not in recent years has such interest been created in baseball games between the two cities, for never have they been represented by as good ball teams that were so apparently equal in strength. Following the game here on Sunday the Cardinals will play two games at Beloit on September fifth and sixth, and the winner of the two games out of three will have just rights to claim the Southern Wisconsin title and also that of northern Illinois.

Intense Rivalry. But it is not only the championship honors that will make the series a record breaker, but the intense rivalry between the two teams, the fans and the cities. Added interest is being taken because both teams have each won a game by low scores and both are strengthening up for the series. In fact it is expected both will be "loaded" to the hilt. It is anticipated that not less than five thousand people will attend the game Sunday, unless weather conditions prevent, and a diamond game that will go down in history among the fans should result.

The Janesville Cardinals look good from all present indications to win the first game. The statement is made from the comparison of the two teams as they were in the last game and their present strength. Lafferty to Pitch. Beloit will have Sam Lafferty on the mound and on him all Beloit fans place their hopes. Lafferty is a whirlwind of a pitcher, having won his games in Beloit five straight after giving the Beloit three bunnings. Lafferty is rated as one of the best, if not the best hurler in Chicago outside the "big show," and the Cardinals are certain to run up against some nifty twisting and turning. Not a Sure Thing. It is not certain, for White-water is after Bob Hard, as they have been after other Janesville players. When right, Bob is as good a pitcher as one can find anywhere. Beloit may argue that Lafferty is better than Ruck, but it takes more than one hit to win the average ball game. The last that is all Ruck allowed in the last Beloit game. In the first game Beloit got six off him, winning 2 to 1. Tuesday Bob and George, the two brothers, hooked up in a pitching duel at White-water, George hurling for East Troy and Bob for Whitewater, and the game was the best ever witnessed in Whitewater, although East Troy won by one run.

On the Catchers. Sullivan, the late injured hand has healed and he will be ready for the spangles Sunday. Delaney of Chicago is reported to be the best in the Windy City. Trouble has been experienced in obtaining a good catcher, and the backstop job has not been filled satisfactorily all season long. The Cardinals' infield promises to be better than that of Beloit. At first there is Joe Nelson. This scrappy infielder is only weak on one thing. That is, he does not get a hit every time he comes to bat. There is no better fielder for the first sack anywhere than Nelson. "Denny" Blake will be at second, and the Belvidere man is a good clown, and a seasoned veteran. Manager Caldwell pulled all the wires out of the city today in an attempt to land "Dutch" Bradison, the peppery short stop who has been with Terre Haute in the Central league, all season. Bradison played one game here, and he lacks nothing as a ball player. Jack Kernan will be at third, and Kernan is hitting hard and has not made a boot yet while with the Cardinals. Veach singled to left and Bush hit. Leonard opened the last inning with a single to right, and Hooper's sacrifice placed him in position to score.

Rube Marquard Gets CAN TIED ON HIM; TO THE TORONTO CLUB

New York, Aug. 26.—Richard (Rube) Marquard, right-handed pitcher, was sold on Wednesday by the New York Nationals to the Toronto club of the International league. The Giants are to be the transferee from the Canadian team. It is understood that all major league clubs waived claims to Marquard because of their unwillingness to pay the high salary which his contract calls for. This salary will undoubtedly be paid of by the two clubs.

Marquard declared his unwillingness to join the Toronto club, and wants his unconditional release.

Marquard came to New York in 1908, when $11,000 was paid to the Indianapolis club for him. He did not play much until 1911 when he began to develop and the next year made a record by pitching nineteen straight victories. Last season he defeated Pittsburgh in twenty-one innings of the National league.

The New York Nationals also announced the purchase of Charles Ebel, pitcher from the Pittsburgh National League club for $10,000. He is a brother of Walter Schang, the catcher of the Philadelphia Nationals.

Sherwood Magee appears to be in better shape than he has been in years. His arm, which was once the butt of ridicule from the bleachers, is strong, while his speed on the bases has been a surprise to the fans. Magee has taken off fully twenty pounds since last season, and that positively accounts for his good work of late.

MISS SILICO WINS THE 2-14 PACE RACE AT BELLOIT WEDNESDAY

Beloit, Wis., Aug. 26.—Stu Chimes failed to bring home first money in the 2-14 trot at Beloit yesterday. Guy Patch, a Minneapolis horse taking first money in close heats. Five heats were necessary to complete the race. Miss Silico, a Monroe horse, won the 2-14 pace by winning the last three heats after finishing 4 and 2 in the first two. It was Beloit day. Most of the shops were closed for the day, and a satisfactory crowd turned out. The races were featured by hard driving.

The police of Beloit and South Beloit rounded up a gang of alleged confidence men and sent them to Rockford, Ill. They expected the police of the Illinois town to keep the alleged confidence men in custody until the fair was over. But the men were charged with vagrancy and paid their fines, returning to the fair. Chief Quahman notified them if they came within his jurisdiction, he would lock them up. The gang of alleged confidence men then left for parts unknown.

Pitcher Bob Groom of the St. Louis Browns is accused of indifference. One story had it that he would welcome a break with the Browns, favoring the fact that he can return to the Washington Americans. Babe Borton, who failed to hit when Frank Chance had him as a catcher, is pouncing the St. Louis Cardinals at a 275 clip for the St. Louis Federals. Aside from assailing at one ump, smacking another and losing a decision to a third arbiter, to say nothing of countless brawls on the field, George Stovall's baseball career has been as serene as that of a village postmaster.

Tom Daly of Cambridge, who brought King George to his feet with a homer when the Chicago White Sox played in London two years ago, which won the game, has been turned over to the Toronto club of the International league by Manager Rowland.

When Garry Herrmann heard that the New York Americans had purchased Dan Tipton, the pitching sensation of the Indianapolis A. A. club, he stated: "There is a working agreement between the Cincinnati and Indianapolis club which gives the Reds first chance over the other big league clubs for Tipton's services. Evidently Herrmann did not see fit to exercise his option, since the latest bulletin of the National Association of Professional Baseball leagues shows that Tipton has been purchased by the Yankees."

Mrs. William McConnell of Philadelphia recently covered the five-mile Marathon course on the Schuylkill river from Conshohocken bridge to the Flat Rock dam in 1:20:00, the fastest time ever made by a woman swimmer over the course. Miss Violet Wharton formerly held this record, her time being beaten by fifty seconds by the new record holder. It was thought by experts that Miss Wharton's record probably would never be broken on account of the favorable conditions prevailing on the day her record was made.

Watch Brooklyn! It doesn't seem possible to keep them from going to the top of the National league heap to stay till pennant day. With Iron man Jack Coombs in the best form of his life, to say nothing of the mad hitting of the steam, that free trip to the fair at San Francisco looks pretty good to the trolley dodgers. They seem to have the edge on the others just now and they seem to be the team that the best of the others will have to beat. The race in the American league is just as amazing in its closeness and when the winners of both leagues line up for the death struggle over the old blue rag, it will be high time for small boys and infirm men to get back of the ropes, for there is going to be a world's series that is a world's series.

It becomes increasingly evident every week that the athletic authorities of the United States intend to join with the International Olympic committee in letting the Olympic games of 1916 go by default. Unless this country takes vigorous action the only thing that can save the games next summer is an early termination of the war. But there is hardly any likelihood that the strife will be over within the next calendar year. With the European countries hardy as ever almost certain that the four-year cycle of these ancient Hellenic sports will be broken for the first time since 1896, when through the initiative of Baron Cou-berlin of Paris the games were revived at Athens.

THE "SHIPPING DEMOCRATS."

There has been much hue and cry about what the democratic party would do for the shipping interests of this country when they succeeded in gaining control of national affairs. It has been one of the talking points for the aspiring democrats for a decade past and what have they done?

The sole accomplishment of this administration for the American merchant marine has been the passage of the Seamen's bill, which has resulted in driving practically every American merchant ship engaged in foreign trade from the seas, or to seek registry under some other flag. The chamber of commerce of the United States has completed its poll on the shipping bill of the last session and 82 per cent of the 282 member organizations oppose the bill, while 93 per cent favor a postal subvention bill such as was passed by the republican congress and defeated in the eleven hour by a democratic filibuster.

If the president really wants to restore the American merchant the way is clearly pointed by this poll of 282 of the leading and most experienced business organizations in the country.

It is peculiar that the Rock river is not more appreciated by residents of the immediate vicinity to its course as a location for summer homes. It is easy to reach and with but a very small expense could be made one of the finest navigable streams in the middle west. It is what is left of a great glacial lake that at one time covered all of southern Wisconsin and perhaps the entire Mississippi valley. It drains some of the most important districts of the state and its winding course, its placid breadth at places all make it the ideal spot for the location of summer homes. It is convenient to the city of Janesville, to the railroads and if the interurban line to Madison is ever completed it will be even more available. True, there are numerous cottages dotting its banks, but there should be more. Why not investigate home conditions before going to weedy, overgrown lake resorts?

RIVER LIFE.

It is peculiar that the Rock river is not more appreciated by residents of the immediate vicinity to its course as a location for summer homes. It is easy to reach and with but a very small expense could be made one of the finest navigable streams in the middle west. It is what is left of a great glacial lake that at one time covered all of southern Wisconsin and perhaps the entire Mississippi valley. It drains some of the most important districts of the state and its winding course, its placid breadth at places all make it the ideal spot for the location of summer homes. It is convenient to the city of Janesville, to the railroads and if the interurban line to Madison is ever completed it will be even more available. True, there are numerous cottages dotting its banks, but there should be more. Why not investigate home conditions before going to weedy, overgrown lake resorts?

They can't shoot? Think of that? Our much-boasted navy can't shoot. Where would we be in a struggle with any other naval force in the world under the present conditions? Talk about enforcing peace by preparing for war? It is all poppycock if the report that the present inability of the American naval gunners to hit the target has been disclosed by Representative Gardner of Massachusetts, who has made public the official record of the last target practice, is true. In all, 828 shots were fired from the 12-inch and 14-inch guns and only 90 hit the target. This situation was intimated by Admiral Fiske, testifying before the naval committee, last winter, but the admiral was censured by Secretary Daniels who insisted that the intimation was unwarranted. Ever since then Representative Gardner and Secretary Daniels have been carrying on a controversy and now Mr. Gardner has confounded the secretary for publishing the official record. The naval gunnery has been going from bad to worse ever since Mr. Daniels became secretary. His establishment of schools on a board ship took up much time which should have been spent in training and target practice, for accurate shooting requires constant drill. The men must be drilled daily in handling the big guns without firing them, later with sub-caliber shells, and finally with real shells. Then during the occupation of Vera Cruz, the men of the west coast little or no target practice was had and, too, the policy of the navy department during Mr. Daniels' administration has not been favorable to the expenditure of much money for his purpose. Mr. Daniels has always permitted Secretary Bryan to do his hinking for him and Mr. Bryan had such confidence that his peace treaties would prevent war that he regarded naval target practice as a waste of time and money.

TROUBLESOME HAITI.

Something always intervenes to aid materially the Washington government when it reaches a ticklish position in its foreign diplomatic relations. Mexico has been a favorite excuse since the European war began to divert the minds of Americans from what might be happening to Americans across the big pond and now along comes Haiti. Out of the frying pan into the fire. This might be construed in many ways but never the less it is true. Haiti has long been a troublesome neighbor of Uncle Sam. Always in trouble and always behind time paying its debts. The Christian Science Monitor recently said of the situation that now marines of the United States navy, obeying orders from Washington, are steadily using police power to bring Haiti to a state of order. Coincident with this process there is negotiation for some arrangement between a conservative Haitian ministry, yet to be elected, and the United States, by which something like stability in the island's fiscal affairs can be set up, and under a temporary protectorate, such as has been tried in other of the Caribbean states, the United States proceed to straighten out the finances of the smaller republic. Had such prior arrangements worked against the permanent interests of Cuba, Nicaragua or Santo Domingo, sincere Haitian patriots might have reason to question the good faith of the United States. But they have not so resulted. Nor will they have such effect so long as the attitude of the United States toward the lesser republics finds its closest and authoritative expression in the terms stated by President Wilson in his Mobile speech.

One interesting phase of the problem, now being discussed with some candor, is its racial complications; and the plan is being urged of using, as commissioners to study the Haitian problem or as administrative officials to execute any plan of protectorate agreed upon, one or more competent, educated negroes from the United States. The theoretical possibilities for good of this plan are obvious, assuming Haitian favor for the scheme. Whether that may be assumed we are not prepared to say, but it is worth noting that some of the ablest of the negroes of the United States are urging the plan on the ground that the racial affinity would count as a factor in making easier any positive action by the United States if it were based on the recommendations of Afro-Americans from the United States concerning Afro-Americans in Haiti, or if the officials executing the decision of the United States were to be its own citizens of the negro race. The plan would perhaps have more likelihood of being tested under an administration less influenced by the opinion of the South. When, a few years ago, it was deemed best by the department of state to cooperate with Liberia in rehabilitating her domestic affairs, the man for the task was found in a negro trained by Booker T. Washington. Now the plan for such use of an Afro-American from the United States comes from the anti-Washington group led by Prof. William E. B. Du Bois.

And they grew to be too dreadfully common, don't you know.
It got so anybody could wear one of them, and the ultra-ultra couldn't stand for that.
It always happens that way with anything that is comfortable and altogether desirable.
It was that way with automobiles. It really isn't nifty to drive one any more.
The lower classes got to buying them and knocked all the joy out of the joy ride for correct and smart people.

A lonesome fly got in our house
One day not long ago;
The family armed itself at once
And started for the foe.

Potato mashers, frying pans
And baseball bats we got,
And broomsticks, and we started in
With might and main to swat.

We smashed three plate glass mirrors and
Tore down the chandelier;
We broke a $40 vase,
And wrecked a jardiniere.

It seems a shame to stop and think
What father's got to buy;
We swatted everything we could,
But didn't swat the fly.

Kernels of The Law

The finder of any lost horse, cow, or other domestic animal must notify the owner if known and request him to pay charges for its care. If he does not know the owner he shall within ten days file notice with the town clerk. If the stray is of less value than $5 he shall post copies of such notice in two public places in the town. If the stray exceeds $5 in value he shall publish such notice for four consecutive weeks in a newspaper of the county. The notice shall describe the stray by giving its marks and by giving the name and residence of the finder. For neglect or refusal to post or publish notice the finder shall be liable in double the amount of damages sustained by the owner of the stray.

The finder should have the stray appraised by a justice of the peace. If the owner does not claim and the stray is not appraised at more than $10, the finder becomes the owner of the animal, if the value is over $10 the stray shall be sold by an officer at public auction and half the proceeds given to the finder and half to the county.

RADIUM, ONE PRODUCT TO LOWER IN PRICE WITH WAR
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]
London, Aug. 26.—While most commodities have grown steadily dearer since war began the price of radium shows a drop of about a thousand dollars a gram in the past year. The reason apparently is that some people who held limited quantities of the available supply were compelled to sell at a loss.

The British Army Medical Department plans to use radium treatment for the benefit of obstinate cases of rheumatism contracted in the trenches.

The pelt of the skunk is of great value, and makes the beaver second in importance among the fur-bearing animals of this country. The muskrat being first. The worth of the skins has long been recognized commercially, but prejudice has prevented the sale of them for what they were. Biblical Trumpets.
First spoken of in the Bible the bugle is a beaten instrument of silver for sounding trumpet calls. The Israelites used the primitive ram's horn (shofar) from choice, it having a certain significance in the ritual. At the siege of Jericho the military calls were sounded by the Hebrews on a cow's horn. The Egyptians used the trumpet of silver. But the bugle was variously built of gold, silver, brass and bronze, and one of terra cotta—Roman of the fourth century—and recently added to the collection of the British museum.

SEEK INFORMATION ON WAUKESHA THEFT

Believe Harper, Who Was Companion of Highwaymen Sentenced Here, Committed Robbery at Waukesha.

Information is now being sought by the Janesville and Waukesha police authorities on the youth, said to be named Harper, who was the companion of Austin Carns, alias Harry Manning, the twenty-one year old desperado who was sentenced here for twenty years for assault with dangerous weapons with the intent to rob. A letter from Dan McKay, chief of Waukesha, states that a young man answering the description of Harper, robbed the Soo line station at Waukesha, holding up two operators and obtaining $35 at the point of a revolver. Since Carns was sent to Waupun for a long term, the police here have failed to obtain any trace of the other highwaymen. It was learned by Chief Chapman that Harper wanted badly to obtain mail at either Minneapolis or St. Paul, and acting on this clue, the detectives at these two cities were notified, but failed to return from Chicago after having searched the "fences" at Chicago without results. Now the police are working on the case from another angle that may bear fruit in time.

Yesterday Cal. Broughton, marshal at Evansville, is reported to have arrested four men at South Beloit and the police here are anxious to obtain information about them. As in this city, several houses were robbed at Evansville the last day of the fair and the police believe that these men were the same who were following the Wisconsin fair and on the last day do their pilfering work.

BREAK THROUGH DOOR AND FIND DEAD MAN

Henry Weeks, Aged 48 Years, Found Dead in Room at Corn Exchange.

Heart Failure the Cause
Henry Weeks, aged 48 years, was found dead at eleven-thirty o'clock this morning after the door had been forced to open, situated in the third floor in the Corn Exchange block. The failure of Weeks to report for work at Bulger's saloon, caused an investigation and two men, together with a police officer, broke through the door. Dr. Fred Welsh was called and declared that Weeks had died from heart failure and had been dead for three or four hours in his bed. The deceased has lived in Janesville for about ten years, coming here from Beaver Dam. He was born in Columbus, Wisconsin. Besides his divorced wife, he has a son, George, and a daughter, Mrs. William Weeks of this city. The body was removed to the Kimball undertaking rooms.

PHILIP L. KOCH DIES FROM BURN INFECTION

Passed Away Shortly Before Noon Today at Home on South Jackson Street.

Philip L. Koch, a resident of Janesville for nearly twenty-five years and well known throughout the state, passed away at 10:35 o'clock this morning at the family home at 517 S. Jackson street. Death was caused from septic pneumonia following a severe infection of the feet following burns received accidentally in the use of a hot water bottle. He was sixty-five years of age.

During the past winter and spring, Mr. Koch was seriously ill as the result of a bad attack of neuritis. In May, however, he apparently recovered his health and was in the best of good spirits.

Philip L. Koch was a native of Germany being born at Huenfeld, on May 27, 1850. Here he received his education and then served in the military training of the German youth. After receiving an honorable discharge from the army he came to the United States in 1882. A few years later he settled in New York City after which he settled in Janesville and thereafter made his home here. On September 12, 1888 he was united in marriage to Anna Kothman.

For the past twenty years Mr. Koch has been a commercial traveler. Throughout Wisconsin and other states he has made hundreds of friends who will be grieved to learn of his demise. Mr. Koch was of the Jewish faith and was a member of the United Commercial Travelers and of the Mystic Workers. He leaves to mourn his loss, the widow, one daughter, Elsie J. Koch; two sons, Vincent and George Koch; three brothers, William Koch of this city and two in Germany and two sisters, one Mrs. Bertha Schaad of New York City, and the other in Germany.

The funeral services will be held on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the late home on Jackson street.

BOYS BREAK CAMP AT PHANTOM LAKE

Y. M. C. A. Summer Camp Ends for This Season.—Officials Journey to Waupaca Where Other Camp Is Held.

Nine boys, accompanied by Physical Director Leck, returned to their home in this city yesterday, after spending two weeks at Phantom Lake, where there were hundreds of boys from all over the state camped for the summer. Tuesday evening the entire camp broke up for the summer and the season was brought to a close.

The Janesville boys report a fine time and all are looking forward to the 1916 camp, and all its good times, when a larger delegation that ever, it is expected, will go to the camp. From two to four weeks of the weather conditions the last two weeks have been very good, with the possible exception of a few chilly days. Yesterday the boys stopped at Phantom Lake at noon, where they took in some of the sights of that city and had dinner.

Most of the officials of the camp routed for Waupaca, where they will attend another Y. M. C. A. camp, which does not break up until the first of September. Tuesday evening a large banquet was given as a farewell celebration and the different medals and honors were bestowed upon those who had earned them during the camp. After the banquet a huge camp fire was lighted and the boys talked over plans for next year and camp stories ended the pleasant evening, which in turn ended camp life at Phantom Lake for 1915.

JANESVILLE YOUTH AT PORT AU PRINCE

Victor Bleasdale in United States Service Is Now Stationed in Haiti.

Letters received from Victor Bleasdale, received from Port Au Prince, showing that the Janesville young man is making a rapid rise in the United States marine service and the correspondence gives an insight into the manner in which Uncle Sam trains young men for service.

The letter was written before the outbreak of the present rebellion, and it is probable that the Janesville young man is seeing something of the fighting as marines have been landed to protect American interests.

For three months Bleasdale was in the training camp for marines at Fort Y. and the young man speaks of the training in most promising terms. He says:

"We drilled five hours a day except Sunday and Sunday when we had few duties to perform. We learned nearly everything necessary for service on land or sea, digging trenches, signal work, bayonet work, trench building, wall scaling and above all—how to drill in company formation. For sports we had everything a young man wishes furnished free—baseball, boxing, basketball, swimming and rowing and library. I was up at the rifle range in Winthrop, Maryland for two weeks and learned how to shoot. I formerly thought I knew how to handle a gun, but here I found out that all the knowledge one obtains through hunting is very limited. I made 'marksman' in the rifle range. The highest possible prize in my company. It is wonderful what one can do with the United States army rifles after handling them daily for three months. A good shot can hit an 18-inch bullseye five times in ten shots at a quarter of a mile in one minute. The coaching a mile in one minute enables him to shoot to marksmen gets him to shoot to marksmen with ease at a mile's distance. Postmarks on the letters show that they were mailed at Port Au Prince, Haiti, and that he left the training camp for service on the battleship, Connecticut.

Home Comforts of Old.

Apparently not all the queen consorts of history were lacking in a desire for creature comforts and one of them at least had sufficient inventive genius to attempt to warm up her huge barracks of a palace by having little iron carriages filled with red-hot ashes carried through her rooms to remove the chill. It was this queen, Isabeau of Bavaria, wife of Charles VI of France, who insisted upon a portable bath tub.

BY RUTH CAMERON

WOMAN'S PLACE.

There is a woman in our neighborhood who is always criticizing one of her neighbors because the latter is interested in certain civic reforms and philanthropic and gives a good deal of her time to them.

"There's scarcely a day," she frots, "that that woman doesn't go to a committee meeting."

Now the woman in the case has two children who are in school, she has a small easily cared-for home and a competent maid. She doesn't care much for the small society of a suburban town, she is a woman of considerable vitality and it is not all needed in her home, and so she puts it into philanthropic and civic work.

What possible wrong is there in that?

And yet, there are many women, of whom the one of whom I spoke is typical, who continually criticize the woman with interests outside her home.

To my mind it is they themselves who are often more deserving of criticism.

The Woman Who Shirks Her Duty.

I believe there are thousands of women who are shirking their full duty in not interesting themselves in any work, church or civic or philanthropic, outside the home.

I mean the women who are so situated that their home does not require all their vitality.

Meaning, I do not mean the woman with small children, the woman with sickness in the home, the woman whose strength is so slender that the day's work completely saps it, the woman who has to help support the home as well as run it.

Nor do I mean any other class of woman who has a legitimate use within the home for all her energy. But after all these have been mustered out there still remains a large class of women who have vitality to spare and who owe some of that vitality to some good cause.

What are you doing to help the big family?

What are you doing to back your convictions with actions?

Something made me ask myself those questions one day and I was astonished to find how I had permitted myself to be absorbed in my small home routine. Since then I have been trying to do better.

I believe that woman's place is in the home—her larger home, the community.

No woman who hasn't the strength is called on to give it. But those who have are called to give and will find themselves blessed in the giving with a broader outlook, widened sympathies and a mind refreshed by being turned to new activities.

Question—I am spending the summer with my children in the country. My husband can only come down week ends. On the evenings that he is at home he is often asked to join little dancing parties by those of our crowd who are in town. Do you think I should be willing to go?

Answer—I don't see what harm a occasional diversion of that sort can do. It's mighty lonesome in the summer for the man whose house is just the empty shell of a home. He's earning the money to give you a vacation. Don't you want him to have all the harmless pleasure he can get out of his lonely life?

Glimpses of Married Life

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

"They say he is going to be married," Mrs. Severs' tone indicated that she was disclosing some great villainy. "I believe they will live to suffer for it."

"I got it," said a bixom woman, holding her needle at the level of her forehead. "I got it from my arm's length and stabbing at it with her thread."

"One knit up these threads of discourse, please."

"Our text," hesitating hands, "is 'as long as we are unanimous, it is hardly worth while to put to a vote.'"

"Is Dr. vote the negative; in other words, Ellison, his divorced state and prospective marriage."

"Well, I am glad he's going to marry. He's a fine man and I liked the look of him. One of those clear-eyed, honest fellows that you are sure would do the right thing, as far as she saw the right."

"But, my dear Mrs. Burt, you have forgotten that he is a divorced man. Think of a young girl marrying a man with a former wife living. He is casting loose the poisonous ex-ample of divorce, and she is throwing her influence on the side of broken homes and may infect the minds of others. It is indicative, to say the least, for a man to have two women living to whom he has fastened the relation of husband."

Severs bit off her thread with a snap. "I agree with Mrs. Severs," came in a deep voice from a gaunt woman in the corner. "How are we to Christianize our brother and sister Americans grant men divorces and thus give them a chance to marry second wives while their first wives live. That defeats the purpose of marriage, which is of should be, to be true to one man or woman 'till death do part. There's nothing finer in earth or heaven than the love that does not fail."

"Encore, encore!" The merry-eyed woman at the machine stopped sewing to clap her hands.

"I thought you were a friend of Dr. Ellison's, Elmore Grant, and approved of the marriage," Mrs. Burt looked at her over the top of her glasses.

"I am, and I do. I was applauding the last line sentiment. There's nothing finer in earth or heaven than the love that does not fail. The trouble is, the love Dr. Ellison had for his former wife—if he ever did love her—could not live through the constant cold nibble of her jealousy."

"Adios, let's take a vote. All those who think marriage is a union of souls hold up right hands."

With uneasy side glances at once another the entire gathering raised their hands.

"As long as we are unanimous, it is hardly worth while to put to a vote. Is Dr. vote the negative; in other words, Ellison, his divorced state and prospective marriage."

"Well, I am glad he's going to marry. He's a fine man and I liked the look of him. One of those clear-eyed, honest fellows that you are sure would do the right thing, as far as she saw the right."

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl seventeen years old. I have been going with a boy friend twenty-one years old. My parents thought a great deal of the boy until a short time ago. So they don't allow me to go with him. What would you do? Listen to my parents? I think a lot of the boy. Please advise me or a BRIGHT EYES.

Listen to your parents. Without a doubt they have a very good reason for not allowing you to go with the boy.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have light brown hair that is soft and silky, but it gets so oily that I have to wash it every week. I am using soda to remove the oil and preserve the color of my hair. It comes out by the combfalls, even the new hair. I have been advised to use sage tea and alcohol, but I think the sage tea will darken the hair. Is this true?

FLORENCE.

Sage will darken the hair, and soda will split the ends. For a tonic use tincture of alcoholic euphorbia, one dram; tincture of capsicum, one-half dram; tincture of nuxvomica, two drams; cocoa oil, three-quarters of an ounce; alcohol, two and one-half ounces. Shake before using. Massage nightly into the scalp before using.

Household Hints

CREAM OF TOMATO SOUP.

Material—Milk, one quart; fresh or canned tomatoes, one-half pint; bay leaf, one, large; butter, two tablespoons; macaroni, one-half cup; salt, one-half teaspoon; sugar, one teaspoonful; soda, one-fourth teaspoonful; parsley, (chopped), one tablespoonful; pepper, (crushed), one-half teaspoonful. Directions—Put the tomatoes into saucepan with the bay leaf and macaroni. Cook for ten minutes. Add the milk and sugar. Put the milk into a double boiler. Rub the butter and flour together, adding a little of the hot milk, until smooth. Pour into the milk, stirring all the while until it thickens. Strain the tomatoes into a soup tureen, add the sugar, soda, paprika, salt and pepper; then pour in the creamy mixture at once, stirring very gently until well blended. Sprinkle the parsley over the top and serve at once. This soup should never be thick, but of a light cream consistency. A teaspoonful of whipped cream may be served on top.

RECIPES.

Meat Loaf—Three pounds of cooked veal chopped fine, one cup of cracked crumbs, two eggs, one cup of milk, one tablespoonful salt, pepper to taste, one tablespoonful melted butter. Mix thoroughly, mold into a loaf and bake slowly one hour.

Blackberry Froth—Dissolve two tablespoons of gelatin in one cup of water. Add a pint of water. Strain and add an equal quantity of blackberry juice, and set aside until it is thick. Whip until a solid froth with an egg beater, stir in the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs and turn it into a mold. Garnish with whole berries. Serve with whipped cream.

Egg in Milk—For each egg allow one tablespoonful of milk. Eggs poached in milk are more delicate and have a nicer taste than when poached in water.

Baked Apple Turnovers—Butter a baking dish well throughout, line with toasted bread broken into bits (dry). Fill with apples sliced or cut into eighths; cover the top with more bits of toast dredged with sugar (according to tartness of apples); atrew with cinnamon, dot with butter and add a very little hot water. Bake until the apples are well done throughout and the top is brown.

Fried Peaches (served as a vegetable with veal or lamb)—This is a novel and delicious dish. To each person allow two peaches. Pare, cut in two; take a granite pan, put in a generous lump of butter, add your peaches and cook over a slow fire from ten to twenty minutes, according to the hardness of the peaches, turning frequently (the oven may be used for this if it is not too hot). When done, strewn with sugar, turn place on a platter, pour the syrup in the pan over it and serve hot.

Floating Island—Bring to a boil one quart of milk, have whites of two eggs beaten stiff and drop in boiling

SAYS WESTERN WOMEN SPEND MOST MONEY ON CLOTHES AND GET LEAST IN RETURN

Miss Anna G. Larkin.

Miss Anna G. Larkin of New York, noted style designer and called the "best dressed woman in America," declared in San Francisco a few days ago that western women spend more money on clothes and get less in return than any other women in the world. "On an average, two New York women could dress on what one woman in the west spends, and they would be better dressed," she declared.

milk by spoonfuls, cover and let stand one minute. Lift out with perforated spoon. Thicken milk with two level spoonfuls of cornstarch, remove from stove; add eggs yolks well beaten, three-fourths cup sugar and pinch salt, a few drops of almond. In the bottom of a pretty glass dish slice about six ripe island peaches and cover with one-half cup burnt marshmallows over this pour custard and put whites on top at intervals, putting one-fourth spoonful of bright jelly on each "floating island."

THE TABLE.

Swedish Rye Bread—Scald two cups rye flour with two teaspoons anise seed and one tablespoon lard. At the same time take one cake compressed yeast, six tablespoons sugar and two cups lukewarm water. Add enough white flour to make batter as for cake, let stand one hour, then mix all together. Add six tablespoons syrup two teaspoons salt, then knead with white flour; let stand till ready to shape in loaves. When ready to bake wash top with hot water and wash again fifteen minutes before taking out.

HOUSEWIVES ARE WARNED AGAINST SALICYLIC ACID

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Washington, Aug. 25.—With the season of preserving and canning fruit at hand—many housewives who like to put up their own fruit are urged to use some preserving or canning compound. The argument is that this makes the work much easier and insures the keeping quality of the food. As it happens, the principal ingredients of these powders is salicylic acid, which is well known as a poisonous substance and which frequently leads to derangement of the digestion.

In cases of acute rheumatism and certain other diseases salicylic acid is useful as a medicine when properly administered but may be a dangerous ingredient in food. Salicylic acid, and preserving compounds, contain boric acid and are frequently sold under fanciful names at prices much in advance of their real value. The worst feature about these powders is that, while they may prevent the decay of the fruit or vegetable, they also encourage uncleanly or careless work. In addition, if they are eaten with food in excessive quantities they may have a bad effect upon the health. The housewife who takes pride in her work will realize that heat, sugar and cleanliness are all that she needs to put up excellent fruits and vegetables that will keep perfectly. Therefore, there is no excuse for running any risk by using preserving powders. The Department of Agriculture has issued many bulletins and pamphlets showing how to put up fruits and vegetables and these it will be glad to supply without cost.

BACK TO MADISON AFTER THIRTEEN YEARS' ABSENCE: WOMAN CAUSES HIS ARREST

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

Madison, Wis., Aug. 26.—After an absence of thirteen years from Madison, when he returned for his mother's funeral, Thomas Burke was arrested on complaint of a Madison girl on a charge of non-support of his child, and the case promises to be a bitter contest to establish its parentage. Burke has since married and has a family. The girl in the case was 16 years old when she met Burke in a dance hall. She is now 31. On the witness stand she told a sad story of alleged desertion, misfortune in mar-

BRITISH RED CROSS USE HYPNOTIST'S TREATMENT

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)

London, Aug. 26.—Practically every British hospital for soldiers now has on its staff one or more physicians trained in administering hypnotic treatment. According to the medical correspondent of the Daily Mail, the results obtained have in many cases been little short of miraculous.

The chief use of hypnotism has been in cases of shell-shock where, in addition to any actual wounding the patient is suffering from a pronounced disorganization of the nervous system. This may take the form of complete or partial blindness, loss of hearing or speech, paralysis, melancholia, or loss of memory.

The treatment consists of hypnotizing the patient and while he is in the hypnotic state the operator coaxes him to exercise those senses or function which previously had been lost or quiescent. Then the lost sight or memory is gradually awakened in the un hypnotized state, and, according to the Mail's correspondent, complete cure is almost always merely a question of time.

CHINA MEDICAL BOARD WILL BE ESTABLISHED

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Peking, Aug. 26.—The China Medical Board, instituted by the Rockefeller Foundation will be established in China at a very opportune moment, according to Dr. J. G. Cormack, the Principal of the Union Medical College in Peking. Most of the staff of doctors who have been sent to the mission college are British subjects, and the staff has been seriously affected by several of the most important men going home to England to volunteer for medical work with the British forces. Dr. Cormack states, also, that "while the war lasts we cannot expect much further help from England."

He made these statements at the annual graduation of Chinese students at which time there were sixteen who received their diplomas this year—bringing the total number of graduates from this college up to twenty. Dr. Cormack added: "Truly this is a very small number when we think of the great need there is in China for trained doctors. Fortunately there is a likelihood of a large increase of our staff in the near future because the Rockefeller Foundation has instituted the China Medical Board which proposes to spend a large sum of money on medical education in China. This Board has decided that they will first thoroughly equip this college in every department and make it possible for every Chinese student to obtain a medical education of the very highest standard. The facilities that will be offered to the young men of China to become highly trained physicians and surgeons will be made equal to anything in Europe or America."

"We are very glad, too," the character of the college as a Christian institution is still to be maintained. The missionary societies which founded this college have from the beginning desired that the moral character of the students should conform to the Christian ideal, and every effort has been made to show the students that knowledge (though virtue is not only undesirable but may even be dangerous. China needs not only the science and knowledge of western lands, but much more does she need that moral regeneration which can alone make a nation truly great."

MISS MAUDE SKINNER WEBS YOUNG MAN OF JANESVILLE

A pretty wedding took place yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Skinner, five miles north of Janesville, when their daughter, Miss Maude Skinner, was united in marriage to Edward C. Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ward, 538 Caroline street.

The bridal march was played by Mrs. John Guehring, sister of the bride and the house was prettily decorated in yellow and white. Rev. J. A. Robinson, pastor of the United Brethren church, performed the ceremony, which was the ring service. The bride was gowned in white silk, and carried white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Viola Skinner, who wore a pretty dress of yellow and carried yellow roses. George Ward, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

After the ceremony, and later the couple left for a two weeks' trip to Sun Prairie and other southern Wisconsin points. They will be at home in this city after October first. Both the bride and groom have a host of friends in Janesville and both have been popular in the younger circles for some time.

SUMMER RESORTS DESERTED NEAR GERMAN FIRING LINE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paris, Aug. 26.—A consequence of the requisition of many seaside hotels for hospitals in connection with other military expedients a great many Parisians who generally go to the seashore have taken villas in the foreign regions around Paris. Accommodations are now at a premium in favorite resorts of the forests of Germain and Fontainebleau. Chantilly, but Enghien is crowded as well as Montmorency, St. Cloud and the popular places of the Meudon Woods. Nearly all the less fashionable suburbs of Paris have been benefited.

The latest military regulations allow of no new residence permits within ten miles of the coast from Le Treport near Dieppe to the northern frontier, excepting by authorization of the military authorities; this exception is reserved to French citizens or subjects of countries allied with France with property they propose to inhabit, or whose lease of it antedates August 2, 1914. Exceptional considerations of health may be taken by the military authorities as justification for residence in the region of Berck Plage, between Le Treport and Etaples. All habitations north of Le Treport known to have belonged in time of peace to the subjects of countries now enemies of France cannot be inhabited under any circumstances.

These regulations close many resorts on the channel coast to the summer visitor.

Letters May Be Addressed To Mrs. Thompson, in Care of The Gazette

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have come to you for advice. Will you please help me? I am an orphan girl. My mother died when I was but a child. I stay with my brother-in-law and sister. My sister treats me as good as gold, but she can and if there is any place I want to go she will let me if I have anyone to go with. I have a brother-in-law who doesn't want me to go, or to go dressed like the other girls. I got my own clothes and ask no one to pay for them. If I come home with anyone he is mad and I drive him out. He wants me to go with some one I do not like. The boy he drove off was a very nice boy and was well thought of by all who knew him.

Last summer I went with a boy and was engaged to him and he married Xmas but he went away to work. He wrote to me a long time and at last I could not get an answer to my letter and I quit writing. One day I got a letter from another boy telling me that he was married. This almost broke my heart for I loved him. I would not go with anyone else unless he knew it and told me to.

There was a boy in my town whom I could have married Xmas, but would not because I did not like him. Now Mrs. Thompson, will you please tell me what to do, as I am downhearted. I have a little niece and nephew whom I dearly love, and when I am in the country I can hardly wait until I can see the ORPHAN GIRL.

The ones who are for you in friendship and in love cannot escape you. Make a deliberate effort to find happiness by making it for others, and this trouble will finally be entirely forgotten. Happiness comes from within.

In reply to Mrs. Anxious: Nothing on earth rubbed on the body will take off the flesh without an injurious effect. He said you misplaced the address. Take the rolling exercise; lie flat on the floor with your knees and feet held close together and roll and roll. It will be very hard at first and so do not over do. Then eat right—chew your food until it literally swallows itself, i. e., with

Occupied Pulpit in Baptist Church
During War Times.—Subject of Talk, "Brotherhood and the War."

The text of an effective short address made at Los Angeles during the recent Northern Baptist convention by Dr. Galusha Anderson, appeared in the July 1st issue of the standard Baptist publication, Dr. Anderson, it will be remembered, occupied the pulpit in the First Baptist church of this city a few years ago, and was a member of the church. The address was given at a banquet of the Baptist Brotherhood, and was entirely impromptu. The topic of his short discourse is, "Brotherhood and the War." In his address he reads as follows:

Mr. Chairman and Brethren: I have been unexpectedly called upon to say a few words at this annual meeting of the Brotherhood. The task seems difficult because the most horrible war of all history is raging in Europe. On the surface it suggests anything but brotherhood. Yet, looking back through the centuries, more nearly and impressively reveals to us the solidarity of our race. We know now as never before that when one nation suffers all other nations feel the pain. In spite of the sense of universal brotherhood survives.

We long for peace, but if by peace as meant simply the cessation of fighting now, and the present stage of the conflict, for one, cannot play for it. To end the fight under present conditions would be to expunge Belgium from the map of Europe, to reduce France to a weak and impotent power, and to leave militarism intact and triumphant. It would go right on gathering, drilling and equipping vast armies and building up great navies. Before we shall have been long in our graves there would be another Europe another war more dreadful than that which is now being so ruthlessly waged.

We pray for peace, but I want a peace that will dig a grave 10,000 feet deep, down to the subterranean fires of the earth, and will cast into a furnace of fire the doctrine of the doctrine that kings rule by divine right; second, that might makes right; third, that great armies and navies are the means of preserving the peace of the nations; and fourth, the doctrine of the Obermann, that by divine appointment some man in every nation is born to rule and to lead. These doctrines pushed down to the bottom of that deep grave, where the mired rocks boil and bubble, and on them I would cast the peace of the world, and the peace of the world would be secured. And over it I would roll a mountain of granite, that there might never be resurrection of these doctrines. But a peace that should not secure such a consummation would not be worth praying for.

I pray for peace, but a peace founded on righteousness, a peace that recognizes the inalienable rights of all men, that grants them the largest liberty of conscience, of opinion and speech. For instance, a peace that should not allow the cry of the social democrats of Germany. In the later elections they cast a full third of all the votes of the empire. There are but few socialists in Germany. They are just good, Jeffersonian democrats. The Declaration of Independence, penned by Jefferson, fittingly expresses their ideas and aspirations. Their voice is not drowned out by the tramp of war armies and the roar of great guns as the embattled hosts of Europe go forth to their work of devastation and slaughter. But there should be heard again the voice of German democrats, which will be swelled by the voices of men of like aspirations all over Europe.

Too long most of the governments of Europe have been of kings, and by kings, and for kings. But the day is dawning when czars, and kaisers, and emperors, and kings will be obsolete. They may have served a good purpose in the past, but the day of their usefulness is over. I would not kill them, but I would not let them live. And if they are not used to it, and to beg we are ashamed, I would pension them, and when one after another should die, I would bury him with a full state funeral, but I would insist that each one should lie down in his grave with his crown on his head, that both he and his crown should together crumble to dust. Thus all the world would learn that kings and crowns are no more.

The nations of Europe are, I trust, henceforth to have governments of the people, by the people and for the people, under which they shall have no license, but the broadest liberty, guaranteed and carefully guarded by laws of their own enactment. God hasten it in righteousness! "The swifter round, ye wheels of time, And bring the glorious day."

ALLOW NOTHING TO WASTE

Everything of the Slightest Value is Utilized by the Thrifty People of France.

What becomes of old sardine boxes, tomato cans, meat cans, fruit cans, and cans of all kinds?

In this country they are usually tumbled into some waste lot or down by the side of the road, where they are left in unsightly heaps.

But the people do better in France, where nothing is allowed to go to waste. They gather them up, and use them as fuel for the soldiers.

The making of tin soldiers is not an insignificant or unimportant business, by any means. There was published not long ago an item saying that the manufacture had reached "great artistic excellence" and that "a certain eminent German officer has found it possible to represent military operations on a large scale by their means."

He has "thirty-five thousand tin soldiers," foot soldiers, horsemen, and artillerymen, with all necessary equipments, and toy scenery; and with them he goes through evolutions, and works out interesting problems of military tactics.

In France, too, the old boots and shoes are collected, and every part is used over again. The work is mostly done by convicts in prisons. They take the boots and shoes to pieces and soak them; then the uppers are cut over into children's shoes; or, if they are too far gone for that, a peculiar kind of pressed leather is made by some chemical action. The nails are saved and sold, and the scraps go to the farmers to fertilize the soil.

Who would have thought it possible to make anything out of old saws? Yet it is said that many of the finest surgical instruments, and some of those used by engineers, are manufactured from the steel that first did duty in saws. The steel of saws is of the very best quality and finest temper; and since it is good in the first place, it is always good.

After that it is easy to believe that there is a place in Canada where they make paper from sawdust. It is a kind of paper pulp, rolled out in great sheets, for the purpose of sheathing; that is, for using on buildings before the clapboards are put on. Wood pulp, made of poplar and spruce, has long been used, mixed with the rags in the paper mills, in the process of manufacture; but it is a new thing to convert sawdust into paper.

Where the largest quantity of lead pencils is made, the sawdust of the cedar wood is saved and distilled. "A valuable oil is extracted, every ounce of which is sold at good figures."

So an old sardine box, a tomato can, a cast-off shoe, and a rusty pruning saw may be made over into something entirely new; and a heap of sawdust and the waste from a lead-pencil manufactory may furnish employment and be of actual use in the world—YOUTH'S COMPANION.

Father Knickerbocker's 250 Years.
New York city celebrated last Thursday the 250th anniversary of its municipal government under a mayor and board of aldermen.

When Thomas Willett was sworn in as mayor, with his five aldermen, on June 24, 1665—the date appearing as June 14, according to the old calendar form, in the early accounts—by the English governor, Richard Nicolls, the last vestige of Dutch rule was obliterated.

There was, indeed, one break, but of so short duration that its influence was negligible. In 1673, while England and Holland were at war, Captain Colve, with a small Dutch fleet, appeared in the harbor. The English recognized that the fort was no more able to resist an attack than it was in the days of Stuyvesant, nine years before, and the Dutch again captured New York. In less than a year, when the European war ended, it was restored to the English.

Safety in Summer Drinks.
On the whole, then, we have reason to be proud of the progress that has been made in the production of summer drinks. Ingredients actually harmful or even deleterious have been mostly eliminated. The chief danger that besets the habitues of the soda fountain is lack of cleanliness on the part of the dispenser, especially in the rinsing of the glasses. With due regard for this and for the temperance and condition of his stomach, the thirsty one may face the fountain without fear and pick out from the fancy names upon the mirror what ever seems most enticing at the time.—New York Independent.

Interesting War Contribution.
Among the funds which are pouring into the committees in every city of Italy to provide comforts and necessities for those who are suffering directly or indirectly through the war, an interesting contribution of nearly $500 has been received by the committee for civil preparation at Bologna. The committee existed during the war of independence in 1866, and this sum, which was then only $50, was the balance which remained to the fund after the war was over. It was deposited in the name of Count Salina, a well-known patriot of the town, and in 49 years it has more than quintupled itself.

You Can't Fool Her.
"Do you believe that there is really something which can invariably tell when a man is lying?"
"I know it."
"Ah, perhaps you have seen one of the instruments?"
"Seen one? I married one."

Canny Daddy.
Father—There, now look pleasant, boys; here's a penny for each of you! (After the picture is taken) Finely done; now give me the pennies back again.—Meggendorfer Blaetter.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Janesville Daily Gazette, Aug. 26, 1875.—Getting summer like again. The thermometer indicated 70 degrees above zero this morning, a high seldom reached at that hour this summer.

John Winans and our telegraphic friend, Richard Valentine, will represent the city in the democratic state convention. They are somewhat in favor of renominating the present incumbents.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The attorney general has issued orders dismissing the assistant district attorney, James Brizzolari, of Arkansas.

T. J. Cairns, West Milwaukee street, has just put up a new and handsome sign, painted by the well known firm of Rogers and Hutchinson.

Engineer Brooks was out again last night trying the rotary fire steamer.

He has evidently hit upon the right place and found a remedy for the "ills" of the machine. Ordinarily it has been possible to maintain twenty pounds of steam while at work, but Mr. Brooks has so altered the flues and firebox that fifty pounds of steam was easily carried last evening, the engine working the best she has been for some years. Mr. Brooks now intends to add more flues, alter the firebox somewhat, drop the furnace door a little lower, and then he thinks he will be able to take a contract to wet down the corporation.

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—The grand jury yesterday found a true bill of embezzlement against Miller, alias Woodruff, defaulting secretary of the contract and finance company. The charges against Rosener, ex-assessor, were ignored.

Asia's Comanches.
Unlike the maritime peoples of the west of Europe, the Slavs had no easement from the colonizing of the new world. When the era of machinery dawned, they were not able, as were the English, the French and the Germans, to get into the sunshine by catering to the world's demand for cheap manufactured goods. Moreover, they have had to bear the brunt of oriental onslaught. The South Slavs, or Serbs, Bulgarians, Herzegovina and Macedonia fell under those Comanches of Asia, the Turks.

Three Types of Feet.
Three types of human feet have been noted by a British naturalist. In the most common designated, the L type, the first or great toe projects beyond the others; in the much less frequent S type the second toe extends beyond the first, as well as the others; and in the rare E type the first and second toes, longer than any others, are of equal length. The S type, which seems to be a more youthful form than the others, is more common in females than in males.

The Modern Way.
Instead of singing lullabies many modern mothers take their babies to the movies and let the audience laugh the little dears to sleep.—Toledo Blade.
